

A 3D architectural rendering of a modern, compact living space, likely a studio apartment or a small house. The room is divided into three main areas: a bedroom, a living area, and a kitchen. The bedroom, located at the top right, features a bed with white linens and a dark headboard, set against a light-colored wall. The living area, in the center, includes a light-colored sofa, a round coffee table, and a small dining table with two chairs. The kitchen, on the left, has dark cabinetry and a countertop with a sink and stove. The floor is made of light-colored wood, and the walls are white. The overall design is minimalist and functional.
